ARTICLE VII - STIPENDS

B. TEACHING OF GRADUATE COURSES AND STUDENTS

Any member of the bargaining unit who teaches a graduate course shall, for the teaching of such course, be paid a stipend equal to one hundred seven percent (107%) of the stipend otherwise payable under the preceding Section A or B.

Effective at the beginning of the summer I instructional period of 2012, any member of the bargaining unit who teaches a course that is not designated a graduate course, as defined by Article I, §G(6), and which contains five (5) or more students receiving graduate credit, shall, for the teaching of such course, be paid a stipend equal to one hundred seven percent (107%) of the stipend otherwise payable under the preceding Section A or Section B, as appropriate.
